

SCHOOL CAMPING EQUIPMENT HIRE

Over the last 5 years Hanover Primary School has developed a low-cost, high-impact model for educational residentials developed with the Paul Hamlyn Foundation's Learning Away programme. See learningaway.org.uk/residentials.

Hanover is now offering the opportunity for other settings to hire their equipment at very reasonable rates. Resources have also been developed, see learningaway.org.uk/resources

WHAT IS HANOVER'S MODEL?

As well as taking part in staff run camp-based activities, the children play a central role in every aspect of camp life. They cook all their meals on fires, build their own structures and dens and learn to chop and whittle wood. Staff, children and volunteers sing songs, roast marshmallows round the campfire and learn to exist in a way that is radically different to their normal lives.

The aim of the residential is to develop long-term skills in understanding others, communication skills and valuing community involvement. It also aims to develop the school's practice in working with children with educational and behavioural needs.

WHAT HANOVER CHILDREN AND TEACHERS SAY ABOUT OUR CAMPS

"The camp was a once in a life time opportunity, because I don't ever get to do things like this."

Year 6 pupil

"We learn to appreciate what we have at home, bonding with people we don't know so well and how to survive in the middle of nowhere."

Year 6 pupil

"On camp everyone has to rely on each other to keep things working. A sense of community is key to the experience and the impact on pupils' relationships and sense of shared responsibility is striking."
